IIT Madras Collaborates with Tel Aviv University to Offer Water Quality Course

-VidyarthiMitra News Desk

The Indian Institute of Technology Madras (IIT Madras) has partnered with Tel Aviv University in Israel and the KMCH Research Foundation (KMCH-RF) in Coimbatore to launch a new water quality course. This initiative aims to foster water literacy among final-year science and engineering students and other technically inclined individuals interested in water quality.

The four-month course will be delivered in a hybrid mode through the NPTEL online platform. Participants can choose to attend lectures online, in-person, or through recorded sessions. The course will commence with registration starting on July 29. Interested candidates can register on the official website. Students' grasp of the material will be assessed through online assignments and quizzes. For those opting for the practical sessions, hands-on experience will be provided, including field measurements and lab work using hand-held instruments and field test kits.

This collaboration underscores the commitment of IIT Madras and its partners to addressing global water quality issues. The course will cover critical topics such as water chemistry, pollution sources, water treatment technologies, and sustainable water management practices. By integrating theoretical knowledge with practical skills, the program aims to equip students with the expertise needed to tackle real-world water quality challenges. global water quality issues.

CUET UG Result 2024 Live: Provisional Answer Key Released, Result Date to be Announced Soon

-VidyarthiMitra News Desk

The National Testing Agency (NTA) has released the provisional answer key for the Common University Entrance Test (CUET) UG 2024. Candidates can access the answer key on the official website, exams.nta.ac.in. In a recent statement, UGC Chairman Jagadesh Kumar mentioned that the result date would be confirmed soon, stating, "NTA is working on CUET results and will announce a date soon."

The delay in the results comes amidst controversies regarding alleged irregularities in various competitive exams, including NEET UG and UGC NET.

The CUET-UG was conducted on May 15, 16, 17, 18, 21, 22, 24, and 29, 2024, in a hybrid mode, combining both computer-based (CBT) and pen-and-paper formats. For the 15 subjects with the highest registrations, the test was administered in pen-paper mode, while the remaining 48 subjects were conducted in CBT mode.

The NTA has invited candidates to submit any objections to the provisional answer key by July 9, with a fee of ₹200 per question. After addressing the objections, the final answer key and the results will be announced.

NTA to Conduct Retest for CUET-UG Candidates with Valid Grievances

-VidyarthiMitra News Desk

The National Testing Agency (NTA) has announced plans to conduct a retest for CUET-UG candidates between July 15 and 19, 2024, if their complaints about the exam are found to be valid. This decision follows multiple grievances raised by candidates concerning technical issues and time loss at certain exam centers.

The NTA has also released the provisional answer key for the Common University Entrance Test (CUET) UG 2024. Candidates can challenge the answer key until 6 pm on July 9. Verified challenges will be reviewed by subject experts, and the final results will be based on the revised answer key.

A senior NTA official stated, "The NTA is committed to addressing all valid grievances raised by candidates. If any complaint is found genuine, the agency will organize a retest for the affected candidates at selected centers between July 15 and 19." The official also mentioned that these measures are part of NTA's efforts to ensure a fair and transparent examination process.

The CUET-UG 2024 was conducted in a hybrid mode, combining computer-based tests (CBT) and pen-and-paper formats, across 380 cities, including 26 international locations. Over 13.4 lakh candidates registered for the exam, which included tests for 15 subjects in pen-and-paper mode and 48 subjects in CBT mode.

The release of the CUET-UG results has been delayed due to ongoing grievance redressal and the finalization of the answer key. The results are now expected to be announced by July 10, 2024, provided the review process is completed on time.

This year's CUET-UG has faced scrutiny amid broader concerns over irregularities in competitive exams, including NEET and UGC NET. In response, the Ministry of Education has removed NTA Director General Subodh Singh and appointed a high-level panel headed by former ISRO chief R Radhakrishnan to oversee the examinations and ensure their smooth conduct.

On-Demand Examination (ODE) 2024 Schedule by National Institute of Open Schooling (NIOS)

-VidyarthiMitra News Desk

The National Institute of Open Schooling (NIOS) has announced the schedule for the On-Demand Examination (ODE) 2024 for Class 10 and 12 students. The exams will be held from July 16 to September 12, 2024, and the detailed timetable can be viewed on NIOS's official website, nios.ac.in.

To download their admit cards, students must log in using their registration number and date of birth within the specified period. Registration for the ODE and fee payment will start on July 10, 2024, which includes registrations for Streams 3 and 4. The exams will cover the updated syllabus. Class 10 subjects offered include Mathematics, Hindi, Sanskrit, Painting, Science and Technology, English, Social Science, Data Entry Operations, Business Studies, Economics, Home Science, Accountancy, Psychology, Indian Culture and Heritage, Bharatiya Darshan, and Sanskrit Sahitya. Class 12 subjects include English, Economics, Physics, Business Studies, Mathematics, Political Science, Sanskrit, Geography, Data Entry Operations, History, Biology, Mass Communication, Introduction to Law, Sociology, Library and Information Science, Psychology, Painting, Chemistry, and Environmental Science.

The ODE system was first introduced by NIOS in 2003 to provide flexibility in open and distance learning. It allows students to take exams at their convenience rather than following a fixed schedule. Originally launched for secondary education, it was expanded to senior secondary education in 2007 due to its positive reception. Students can find the detailed exam timetable and other information on the official NIOS website at nios.ac.in.

Eligibility Criteria:

- Students who have already appeared for the NIOS examinations but were unable to clear them can also apply for the ODE.
- Fresh learners who have registered for NIOS courses and have completed their study period are eligible.
